HUMBERT AND HIS SON IN BERLIN.

RUCTION IN THE SPANISH CORTES.

Berlin, 23rd—The strike in Westphalia is declining daily. Many men have returned to work, and the rest are expected to do so.

Rome, 23rd—The King and Prince of Naples have been enthusiastically received in Berlin. Grand banquet in the Imperial Castle to-night.

Madrid, 23rd—Great bobbery in the Chambers about Finances. The President yesterday left the Chamber owing to the disorder, and has sent his resignation to the Queen Regent. It is thought she will not accept it.

GREAT DOINGS IN BERLIN.

THE WILY IRON CHANCELLOR AND THE ST. JAMES'S GAZETTE.

Berlin, 23rd—Grand review of the Potsdam and Spandam garrisons in honour of King Humbert. Troops marched past Emperor and King.

London, 23rd—Parnell will visit Edinburgh early in July, and will receive the freedom of the city.

Berlin, 23rd—The special correspondent of the Associated Press says that there was no difference of opinion whatever yesterday in the Samoa Conference; nothing was said about compensation for the killing of Germans in Apia. Another meeting will be held next week.

London, 23rd—In the case of Greenwood versus the St. James's Gazette, the Jury were dismissed, not being able to agree. The trial is much discussed in political circles and newspapers: Greenwood left the post of Editor suspecting that Steinkoft, the new proprietor, was under Prince Bismarck's thumb. He proved that Steinkoft, a German trader in the Soudan, bought the St. James's Gazette and went to Berlin, where he was received by Bismarck, who promised to send him news from Berlin on condition of its being published in the shape sent. The news sent shews that Boulanger was feared by Bismarck, and in return for the Gazette's support, Steinkoft proposed that the German Ambassadors in Paris, Rome, and St. Petersburg should communicate secretly with the Gazette. It is thought that Steinkoft was taken in by Bismarck.

MEETING OF THE PRESIDENTS.

It is a coincidence that, whilst the German Emperor was welcoming to the gates of Berlin the King of Italy, the President of the Argentine Republic was greeting the Chief Magistrate of the Uruguayan Republic on his landing on these shores. The day may come when Argentine Presidents and Italian Kings will visit each other on the same terms as Dr. Juarez-Celman and General Tajes, or King Humbert and Emperor William: international amenities of this intimate nature, at such great distances, may appear improbable to-day, but the time may not be remote when a week only will separate the Tiber from the Plate, and then monarchs and presidents may be induced to cross the ocean and shake hands.

Another feature of these international visits is that whilst the extraordinary generosity of the Berlin Municipality, which voted 150,000 marks to receive King Humbert, is wired across the Atlantic, nobody appears to pay attention to the fact that the Argentine Government is at present spending about a million dollars to welcome President Tajes. It is only right to state that when Argentines do a thing of this kind they do it in royal fashion and do not pause to consider the pounds and pence. One special good feature is that the Government, not the Municipality of Buenos Aires, pays for this princely extravagance.

Not many months ago, the Argentine President visited President Tajes: the latter now returns the visit. At a first glance, such courteous proceedings seem to clash with the democratic ideals of these countries, but we must take it for granted that there is some deep political move to account for such an innovation in our republican midst. One thing is certain, and that is that this exchange of presidential visits removes many ugly doubts from the minds of Uruguayan politicians, and seals a solemn treaty of friendship between both republics. There was still a lingering fear in some quarters as to the ultimate international aspirations of the Argentine Republic with regard to Uruguay: all such doubts are now smothered for ever, and so much the better. There used to be a school of Argentine politicians whose hopes were centred in extending the frontiers of the Republic to the old limits of the Vice-Royalty of the River Plate, when Uruguay and Paraguay were a part of the whole. That school and those politicians have passed away, and with them has been buried the hatchet that might have caused any disturbance. The visits of both presidents are a solemn engagement that binds both people together in one international policy, and those who cannot see it must be blind.

Warm as was the welcome tendered to the Argentine President in Montevideo last February, we think it was eclipsed by yesterday's demonstration, where Argentines and foreigners joined to greet the Uruguayan President on his route from the South Basin to the Government House in the Plaza Mayo; amid the thunder of the heavy guns of the fleet, and under a canopy of Argentine and Oriental flags, General Tajes landed on Argentine soil, welcomed by President Juarez, his ministers and all the high dignitaries of States. Along a glering line of bayonets and Krupp guns the cortege drove to the Plaza Mayo, and the effect of so many shining plumes and epaulettes would have been magnificent, but the marring impression of the closed carriages. In the future etiquette, on such occasions, should prescribe open carriages, that the public may get a full view of the inmates, and that the resplendent uniforms, and all the lace and feathers, may produce their full effect.

The demonstration, we must confess, in the full glare of the uniforms and bayonets, looked more military than popular. Over three thousand troops and a regiment of artillery were drawn up. As they filed past the portals of the Government House, the brass bands stood and played the Oriental hymn: the men were well-dressed and in splendid drill. The infantry regiments looked very martial. The artillery was not up to the mark: the guns were polished and glistened in the faint rays of a watery sun, but the carriages and train appeared untidy to the untutored eye. The cavalry shows immense improvement: the horses are small, but sleek and in good drill. All the commanding officers were gorgeously arrayed. The pet of the public, the Fire-brigade—and its gallant chief, Colonel Calaza, were cheered to the echo.

The crowd in the Plaza was enormous in certain places. All the balconies were crowded with ladies, and the "oi polloi" hung in clusters from balustrades, lamps and ladders. The police behaved admirably on the occasion, displaying very much patience and discretion with the crowd that surged forwards and backwards in front of the Government House. Some cavalrymen who endeavored to force back the crowd with their horses were hissed, owing to the very violent manner in which they rushed on the people. The police commissaries deserve much credit for the success of all their arrangements.

After the defile of troops, the new Presidential escort in flaming red jackets and white trousers galloped up. The Czar of Russia might be proud of such an escort, but we must admit that the uniforms are too loud for the public taste. Behind the first rank of the escort came the ridiculous state carriage, reminding us forcibly of the Lord Mayor's show. President Tajes sat on the right, President Juarez on the left; both were cheered by the crowd. The Uruguayan President made an excellent impression; he looks every inch a soldier. President Juarez seemed in excellent spirits.

After the departure of the Presidents from the Government House, followed the inevitable rush of the crowd and the block-up of carriages. Mounted police came to the rescue and cleared a space after some trouble, but it was admirable to note the good behaviour of the crowd and the tact of the police: not a single row, or act of violence, did we witness during the proceedings, and this speaks well for the people and the police.

At night there was a grand reception at President Juarez's house: in the maze of bronze statues, gilt panels, flowers, lace and feathers the house looked like fairy land, and we do not doubt that the impression made on the illustrious Oriental guest has been most flattering and pleasurable. Both the people and the Government are joined in giving President Tajes a regal welcome, as well as to the several hundred Uruguayan gentlemen who accompany him. The great feature of to-day's proceedings will be the gala performance at the Politeama theatre, when Patti's nightingale notes will remind many of similar nights and similar festivities in the capitals and courts of Europe.

MINISTER VARELA'S BILLS

Part of this enormous sum has gone to increase the extraordinary demand for exchange, another part has gone towards the purchase of gold, for the timid immigrant has no confidence at first in the country, and the rest remains in the pockets of the immigrants, or is placed by them in the banks, or is sunk in the purchase of real-estate. This demonstration applied to the labor of 500,000 immigrants shews the necessity of great elasticity in our monetary mediums, and it shews moreover that we have not too much paper in the country. In order not to complicate this simple statement of facts, I presume that the amount of specie brought into the country by the immigrants is exported, and I do not take into account the much greater amount taken away by those immigrants who come here for the harvest and return to their country with their savings, which consequently have not passed through any bank.

Since, therefore, it is not in the power of man to circulate one metal as sole money, since it is prudent to take some measure while awaiting the solution of the monetary question, and since it is urgently necessary to provide the country with a sufficient stock of specie, the Executive has come to the rescue with bills to meet the situation. The transitional system proposed consists in the maintenance of the present laws on money, in the maintenance of respect for the cancelling value of gold with the addition of silver as an assisting agent which shall not have cancelling power amongst private parties, but which shall be received in payment in all the public offices. The addition of silver will serve three great ends. First of all, it will strengthen the value of paper. Then the value of silver being recognized in all the markets of the world, it would serve for exchange purposes, and finally the silver medium would be advantageous to the thrifty immigrant desirous of hoarding up his savings. The Argentine silver-dollar for the immigrant would have the same value as the 5 franc piece.

The Executive therefore proposes to open a gold and silver fund in the National Treasury, and moreover a fund to renew that fund. This measure will be of a transient character until the monetary question be solved. It is necessary that all the gold and silver of the National Treasury be brought to bear on the market, and for this purpose the Executive proposes the issue of certificates of gold and silver deposits. These certificates would be issued in the same way as in the United States. So soon as the certificates payable at sight be issued to their total amount (50 millions), a corresponding amount of inconvertible notes will have been withdrawn and destroyed. In a word, a third part of the amount of inconvertible notes will have been withdrawn. The Bill provides that the exchange of certificates shall be made for notes from all the banks, but it provides also that the notes to be destroyed shall be those of the National Bank, which will be compelled like the other banks to purchase with gold any further issue. This is an advantage for the Bank, and the Executive considers it just to bestow that advantage on the Bank. The withdrawal of the National Bank issue would, moreover, place 41 millions in 4½ per cents in the hands of the State, and this amount, which served as guarantee for the issue of notes, could be made to swell the National Treasury in harmony with the other resources of the State. One of these other resources is the surplus in legal currency left on the conversion of the 50 millions gold of certificates after the withdrawal of the National Bank issue. This surplus will amount to some millions and will be returned to the market in the purchase of Cedulas, which will go towards the creation of a special fund for the renewal of conversion.

Amongst other resources we have:

1st—All or part of the deposit of 31,000,000 gold which the Executive has in the banks, which gold shall be employed according as the banks deliver it, in order not to exercise too much pressure on the market.

2nd—The total or partial sale of the shares held by the State in the Central Argentine Railway.

3rd—The proceeds of the sale of railways and the City Improtement Works.

4th—The reserve fund of the banks, which according to law must be over 15 millions.

5th—The proceeds of the sale of the 4½ per cent bonds withdrawn from the Public Credit Office.

There are other means for the formation of a guarantee fund and for a fund to renew that guarantee until the economic forces of the country of themselves suffice for the renewal, as in the United States. I shall call your attention to one particular resource of the State. I allude to the reserve-fund exacted by the Free-Banking Act. It is proposed that this fund be handed over to the National Treasury, but the Banks remain entitled to its value, since in exchange they receive certificates which may serve for deposits or discounts. But as they are exempted from the duty of converting their notes, which responsibility is partly taken over by the National Treasury, it is only just that they should contribute to the fund that guarantees those notes.

It may be argued that the guarantee and conversion fund in the National Treasury will prove costly for the State, and that the possible withdrawal and exportation of the gold and silver will involve a more costly importation of the precious metals. That is quite possible, but possibility is the limit of everything.

If, in consequence of the irregular conditions of the growth of the country, of the irruption of large bodies of men, it is necessary to be prepared for momentary disturbances, it is the duty of the State to meet the exigencies of the community at any cost. We know that the sacrifices of to-day will be amply compensated for to-morrow. The experience of other nations proves it. We may be compelled to spend to-day, but to-morrow we reap, as the United States have reaped. If the guarantee fund prove costly for the State, we must not hesitate, for the community will benefit by the stability of the bank-note. The advantages accruing from the stability of the note are infinitely above the cost of the measure, although we may not at first see it.

It may furthermore be argued that the State will obtain no interest on the immense sums belonging to it. But what belongs to the State belongs to the people. We are only entrusted with the handling of those amounts, and we could not find a better employment for those millions than in maintaining the value of the currency.

THE SPANISH BANK, MONTEVIDEO.

During our recent visit to Montevideo it was a pleasant task to call on old friends who are started down there and doing well. In many of the banks and public institutions we met parties who formerly figured in Buenos Aire. The new Spanish Bank, which is now doing such a large business in Montevideo, is conducted and managed by our old friend, Don Manuel Castilla, who a few years ago was one of the most prominent Bolsa brokers in Buenos Aires. We visited his bank on Thursday morning in company with Mr. T. Duggan and Mr. E. Casey, and found the bank people even at that early hour up to their eyes in business. The bank building is beautifully fitted up, and the carved woodwork, so neat and so artistic, greatly attracted our notice. The old Spaniards when they do a thing do it well, and tourists when they visit Barcelona have ample opportunity of judging of the great municipal abilities of the Spaniards by the clean, tidy appearance of that beautiful Spanish city. The Spanish bank in Montevideo is really a credit to the Spanish commerce of that city; and as all the principal 'barraquero' business of that port is in the hands of Spaniards who to a man support their own bank, Mr. Castilla finds himself at the head of one of the best banking institutions in the Plate. The bank is situated in Calle Rincon No. 50; the counters etc. were all made in Montevideo of oak and exquisitely carved with the arms of all the principal Spanish cities and the emblems of commerce. The large iron strong room, we believe one of the largest in Montevideo, was constructed in England by Millner and Co. and is of sufficient capacity to hold not only the books and cash, but also to lock up the President, Directors and Mr. Castilla the manager himself. Besides this strong room they have numerous large iron safes which impress the visitor with a certain awe of the Spanish capital therein concealed. Although but of recent creation the bank has already 400 s/cs current, chiefly 'almaceneros', 'Registreros' and 'barraqueros'. The business of small bills of exchange on Spain which was so scattered is now almost totally in the hands of this flourishing young bank. The capital is three millions dollars gold, of which 2,300,000 are paid up, and the whole amount will be paid up by the end of the present year.

The bank has a total emission of its own notes in circulation of 1,214,620 m/n gold, its deposits are close on a million, and its discounts in 'cartera', etc. nearly three millions, which shows well for so young a bank and on so small a capital, and means a good dividend for the shareholders. The Board of Directors is composed of nine members, all of whom must be over 30 years, which is rather a remarkable prohibition against youth; but we suppose the Dons who framed the statutes had good reasons for the article in question. Mr. Castilla showed us the contaduria of the bank, which is more exact in detail than is usual in most banks. The cashier's book daily shows not only the cash movement, but even the enumeration of the different coins and bank notes received. The accounts current are kept in large, double-sized ledgers made expressly in London for this bank and not used by any other bank that we know of in the Plate. We were introduced to Mr. Irisarri, the President of the bank, who was busy in the back bank parlour, and who spoke in the purest Castillian. Brokers were coming in and going out of the bank just as fast as in the busiest bank of Buenos Aires. The rent which the bank pays for its splendid and commodious premises is but 250 m/n. per month, which is certainly not one fifth of what they charge in Buenos Aires for similar premises. Mr. Castilla, who has taken such an active part in organizing this bank, merits the very greatest praise; and we feel quite sure that in a few years, under its present able management, the shares of this bank will be at a very high premium.

The following is the Directory:

President—Don J. J. Irisarri
Vice-President—F. Gutierrez Zorrilla
Directors—J. J. Amezaga, P. Pages y Valenti, A. Romero, Blas Alvarez, J. P. Soto, P Rey and Jose Helguera
Manager—Don Manuel Castilla.

AMUSEMENTS.

ADJOURNMENT OF THE COMMISSION.

SIR CHARLES RUSSELL'S CLOSING SPEECH.

April 12th.

I believe that the American currant is in blossom and that lilacs and laburnums are in leaf, but for two days we have not been able to see across the street for fog, and it is or has been cold and wet, and we have been all suffering more or less from diphtheria, quinzy, cancer in the mouth or something. Spring in this country cheats us in the performance. We no sooner get a glimpse of it than it is gone. Summer we enjoy about September, and then it is autumn. The W. H. Smith of the seasons in this country, is winter; thoroughly English and reliable. We have seen about the last of the clasical concerts and other heavy business, including overcoats and mufflers. A few days more and the tulips and nursery maids will be out in the parks, the blinds and balconies will have a warmer glow, the Serpentine will have a bluer tint, and once again the long string of carriages from Hyde Park corner to Burlington House, the pictures, the statues, the flowers, the pretty dresses, and twitterings and titterings and blushes as if love had just dropped on the earth for a first visit. "Doris", the new opera by Messrs. Stevenson and Collier, the authors of "Dorothy", is advertised next week for the Lyric, in Shaftesbury Avenue. There is not a seat to be had. "Dorothy" was played for, I think, 923 nights consecutively. It does not follow that "Doris" will have the same success. "Dorothy owed much to Mary Tempest, and two tunes, neither of which was written for the opera. It, however, proved that there was still a large public weary of burlesque of the gaiety type as well as of the grimaces of Messrs. Gilbert, Sullivan and Grossmith at the Savoy, where the grimaces, literary, musical or histrionic, are always the same, the differences being only in costume. A simple Watteau-like idyll of English life in the last century attracted a world of its own to "Dorothy", to which perhaps the huntsman and real pack of hounds in the final scene lent a special charm. The scene of "Doris" is laid in Cheapside in the Elizabethan period. That, I am sure, is a mistake. Beefeaters we have had enough of in "The Yeomen of the Guard." As far as I gauge the taste of the day, I would say if you must have romance go back to King Arthur, or at latest to the 15th century. The 16th and 17th centuries are too near and not near enough. The public of our time has a certain community of interest with the rakes and belles and highwaymen in the days of our great-grandfathers, but takes only an academic interest in Elizabethan frills and furbelows. However, the scenes in "Doris" are to be solid and practicable "sets" worked by hydraulic machinery. That is to say, the houses in the Cheapside of the 16th century are to be real houses, modelled after the style of 'Old London," and thoroughly realistic and historic productions. Such is the beautiful and instructive tendency in modern opera and drama. Whilst heightening intensely the interest of the plot and colour of the music, the scenery is an educator. The mere actor or the mere musician, to whom his own specialty, is everything is apt to ridicule modern realism as the mere literary gent might be inclined to do. But the public is right. The old sets and wings are no more possible and seem to us just as ludicrous as Mrs. Billington or some one as "Clytemnestra" in wig hoop and parches. As for the music of "Doris" I have my doubts, although I take a special interest in Mr. Cellier, claiming as I do do to be amongst the very first who lent him a helping hand in the press many years ago. I said then as I say now, he will never be an Auber, or even a Balfe, but there was a fetching strain just distinguishable in his first opera that might make him. Well it made "Dorothy" at least. If "Doris" is not an advance upon that, there is no more stuff in him.

"Dorothy" reminds one of Marie Tempest and she of Marie de Brelcam, alias Emma Maria Greene who has just been shot dead by her paramour one Hunt said to have been a cavalry officer. They lived together in Gospl Oak. He was a married man living in Charlewood Street Pimlico. After shooting Marie he shot himself. He was of an irritable, jealous temper, but it seems from the little evidence produced that the man did not intend to fire, but doing so and seeing the result, he committed suicide. Marie de Brelcam was not much known on the stage except to regular theatre goers, who remember her. She usually took boy's parts in which she shone. She had a lithe pretty figure and unmistakably straight, classical features.

Buffalo Bill is to be in great force in Paris. The Parisians are full of it and are learning American. The performances at Earle's Court it seems were nothing to what we are to expect at Neuilly.

10.30 p.m.

I write again by the Italian mail to-morrow, but political matters are so warming up to-night I cannot go on with "music and the drama." I have just returned from the National Liberal Club, where that banker man Sir John Lubbock has been getting hackled to some purpose by his enraged constituents—London university—on account of his Irish policy. Sir John Lubbock's replies were on the approved English W.H.Smithian pattern. They were disgraceful, and doubly so with Sir Charles Russell's splendid and patriotic perorations echoing in our ears. The commission is adjourned till after Easter. Lord Londonderry resigns. His resignation has been long rumoured. He is at loggerheads with Mr. Balfour. If Lord Dufferin is made Viceroy—Piccadilly has set up a claim for the Prince of Wales or the Duke of Connaught—Balfour will resign and take Mr. Smith's place as leader. Smith will be pitched into the Upper House. There are signs of a regular break-up. Heartily I congratulate my Irish friends on the certainty of victory. I believe we can already say we have won! I send you valuable extracts from to-night's papers. Viva!

PARIS LETTER

(From our own Correspondent)

April 19th, 1889

The nation continues to sigh for peace within its walls, in order to allow the Exhibition to produce the plenty within its palaces. The party-fighting not the less goes briskly on; happily, only among the professional politicians and the political school journals. An immense amount of family linen continues to be washed in public, and the compliments exchanged are more those of the type between the pot and kettle than modelled after Versailles courtiers. The curious—and gratifying—result is, that the nation remains perfectly indifferent. It becomes every day more more and more evident; that the day has vanished for cracking up the country by metres of eloquence, and volumes of shibboleths. The political tramp and drummer will soon be extinct as the dodo. The change is steadily setting in to rely on men of established position, weak in tongue-power, balloon-promises, and utopian measures, but rich in life-character, and the evidences of national work and labor done, and the ability to exist without cackling, or negotiating for the trumpets of Fame to chorus a blow.

The country yearns for political rest, to snatch even the temporary joy of the Exhibition season. This has become seemingly impossible, as the preparations for the elections in October have virtually commenced; that is four months in advance. The law considers two months before polling day as the electioneering period. As the "one constituency one deputy" is now the electoral regime, there is no doubt but that local influences will sway. The professional politician will disappear. As every party will set up its own saint, there will be few definite triumphs for any at the first balloting. There will, however, be an invaluable forecast of the national verdict, to show in what quarter sits the wind. The October elections will be a veritable "plebiscite" for all parties, since none can hide their colors this time in their pockets. If the republicans continue to remain enemy-brothers, so will the passions be reflected in the new chamber. If the monarchists do not gain fresh seats, I meet no one who believes they will lore any. They are not more divided than the republicans, and can always run together in harness to an assault on the Republic, and can thus turn the scale in presence of every republican split. This amounts to saying that the new Chamber will be very fragmentary, but it will, too, contain more business-headed deputies, who will have for ideal the interests of France, and the toleration for opposing opinions. A nation cannot be governed by any Procrustes rule, but by compromises like life itself.

The novelty of Boulanger's flight in time—following the prudent tactics of Louis Blanc, Ledru Rollin, Arago, Gambetta, Hugo, &c. &c.—to Brussels, has worn away. He is now occupied, like the Comte de Paris and the Napoleons, with directing his party from across the border, selecting his candidates for the October elections. If he continues to send, as he has recently done, long-winded addresses to be read here at public reunions he will lose ground. No one reads them. The electors have made up their mind long ago how to vote, and neither banishments, flights, finding of High or Low Tribunals, newspaper cannonadings, new caricatures will change their resolution. As for the Senate Assizes, all is mystery and so, naturally, imagination runs riot respecting its proceedings. An eye is kept on the main accusation, where it is alleged, General Boulanger tampered with the fidelity of the soldiery. That's the gravamen of the indictment, following legists. Several versions are published explanatory of this, which the prosecution will have to rebut. It is said some disagreeable surprises are in store. Private documents will be given to publicity that will involve some of the leading supporters of the Government. What next, and next? Following the Debats, the France, etc., the prosecution seems to be turning into a revelation of how M. Jules Ferry was intrigued or conspired out of the succession to President Grévy, by trying to re-fish the latter, and failing this, to run M. Carnot against the man of Tonkin.

The assignee, M. Brunet, of the Panama Canal Co., has given a side-account of the state of the collapsed scheme. He complains of being hard up for cash to keep the protecting works going. Where there is nothing, the King loses his rights, and for the purse that is being emptied, and never renewed, exhaustion is certain. M. Brunet states that one-fourth of the canal is finished, and the remaining fourths only require the sinews of war to be placed in the same situation. No one ever questioned the power of money; to get it, is the difficulty. He also stated, that a survey of the canal by impartial engineers would take six months, and require 10 to 12 million francs for expenses. In the same breath he expresses the opinion—he is only a liquidator, not a technichian—that the works could all be completed for 140 million francs. Before M. de Lesseps threw up the sponge, he estimated the sum at 750 million francs. Capitalists do not believe either gentleman. There has been a heavy pruning among the clerks. These unfortunates not only lose their situations, but their humble fortunes they invested in the enterprise. They made an appeal from the assignee's ruling—that they were not entitled to any compensation; the judges decided that they were, but that not being "pavvies", they could not be viewed as privileged creditors.

The Comptoir d'Escompte—that Panama of the rich, remains in a comatose state. No one seems to be aware of the precise position of the Comptoir. Will it be born again? Will it receive a first or a sixth-class funeral? In the meantime, its business is quietly but surely passing into other banks, and this cripples all resurrection.

The Exhibition Ticket-Lottery Loan of 1½ million francs, has been a great success. Any lottery, when backed by the Credit Foncier—a State financial establishment, keeping clear of Trusts and Copper Rings—is certain of a triumph in advance. The Foncier will make a good thing out of the Loan, in having the use of some millions during 75 years and not having to pay interest thereon. Then its commission expenses will be handsome grit to its mill.

A good half of the Exhibition will be ready by opening day—the 6th May. It is a wonderful spectacle to witness the crowds of artizans, laborers, and gardeners, executing the finishing touches. I cannot assert that the pavilion of the Argentine Republic will be quite in apple-pie order. The northern section of it may, as already the representatives are preparing to unpack exhibits and decorate stands and cases with bright-colored cloths. England has won the palm as being the first to have stalls all ready. These are two houses from London, one for perfumery, the other for cricket-playing material. When the whole Show will be in full bloom—say about the middle of June—the sight will be magnificent. The busiest artisans are those from China and Japan; completion seems to grow under their feet. I cannot find what is being done for Siam (or the Hermit Kingdom, Corea) whose name is over a section or court.

The Annamites have had a food-strike in the department of the French colonies. They claimed more spirits with their rice; and, not shorter hours of labour, but off days for a spree. What progress some Asiatics make in Western civilization!

Sarah Bernhardt and the Devil are said to be the two best-known characters in this vale of tears. She has had a thumping success in "Léna"—the French adaptation of the English melo-drama "As in a Looking-glass". People only go to see her in the last scene of the last act, where she dies by falling flat on her face, as softly as a sack of wool. She is a splendid "dier"; that is, produces in the spectator a shiver or a sensation that is worth his money, whether he be in the dress circle or up in the paradise with the gods. It beats her other forms of expiring, as in the "Dame aux Camelias", "Theodora", "Tosca", etc. She is more immortal than an Academician; the latter only dies once and is forgotten, a little more so than during his lifetime. Sarah is always on the die, and thus rejuvenates her immortality.

The Academy of Sciences has, after an exhaustive examination of movable stoves, next to concluded that the safest way to manage them is to have none at all.

A man has just committed suicide to cure himself of headache.

RACING NOTES & ANTICIPATIONS.

Social and political festivities will combine to render to-day's races at Belgrano memorable in more than one respect. In spite of the large entries, the meeting, which was originally fixed for Sunday last, at one time threatened to dwindle into small proportions, but the miserable weather of last week came to the rescue by compelling a postponement and thus affording an opportunity of bringing off the meeting in the presence of the Presidents of this and the sister republic. The administration too, with rare instinct, at once improved the situation by forwarding a circular letter to the owners of all horses entered, asking them to assist in the celebration by running their animals, if possible. This circular, we believe, has been responded to in the most generous manner, and consequently, in addition to the éclat of the presidential visit enormous fields may be expected. Still the entries will easily be sifted, and the merest tyro in racing will see that in each race there are only one or two horses with chances of winning.

The Premio Equidad, which opens the day's proceedings, should be taken by Remolacha, and only in her absence do we fancy Morella who, however, may be kept for the Premio Esperanza. The Premio Cosmos will practically be a match between Portefito and Cormeilles, and although on last year's form the last named should win easily, yet his running this year has been so indifferent that we are compelled to elect for the son of Portefio, whom we know to be in condition; still, the Frenchman has more than once effected a surprise, notably when he beat Gay Hermit and Condesa, and history may repeat itself in this instance. The Premio Esperanza is regarded as a certainly for Tonga, whose claims must not be despised; still we have an idea that the Stud John Dalton may beat the favourite. The Stud Maldonado should account for the Premio Excelsior, unless Avril has regained the form which, on the occasion of his debut here, he appeared to have altogether lost. Good judges anticipate danger from the brace of young ones. From the Stud Camors, but, surely Caustique must hold them safe at the weights. We now approach the consideration of the chief speculative item in the day's card, the Premio Velocidad, and, here our task is comparatively easy, for assuming Bismark to be all right physically and financially, his success is a moral certainty. Annamite is a horse of as high class as Bismark, even if his status in the equine aristocracy be not more exalted, but 8 furlongs would suit him better than 5 and even if the Son of Pride of Prussia were not running, there would always be a danger of his being chopped over this short course. Ambush is a fair animal in his own class, but can have no pretensions to win in this company with his present weight. Casiopea is greatly fancied by her connections, but even with the cracks eliminated, should succumb at level weights to Surplice. Colibri always runs well up, but, on this occasion, must be outclassed, whilst the owner of Phidias (popular as would be his victory) can hardly hope for a repetition of the extraordinary good luck that has on more than one occasion attended his efforts this season. Summing up, we anticipate the judges' decision thus:

Bismarck	1
Annamite	2
Surplice.....	3

A trotting Handicap completes the programme, and if public form can be in any way relied upon in this contest, Comet should be returned the winner.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Her Majesty the Queen is seventy years old to-day; and the rapidly increasing number of her subjects in the Plate will heartily join their hundreds of millions of fellows all over the earth in wishing her still many returns of a day which they all justly delight to honour.

President Tajes must be a personal friend of the Clerk of the Weather, as the latter got up a delightful day for H. E.'s landing on Argentine soil. The whole thing was a most brilliant success. The troops looked splendid, excepting the artillery, which is much below the mark. The Bomberos—the pets of the public—marched in a rather free-and-easy way; but they were all the more cheered. The same compliment was not paid to any other corps. Full particulars of the whole affair will be found in another column.

The Duran "Londons" are the latest cigarettes in the market. They are made with a special regard to quality and cheapness. An enormous sample has been sent to our office for our subscribers to try, as we never smoke ourselves. N.B. No casual reader need apply: constants yes.

It was said last night that General Santos's sons have been kidnapped with the view of exacting a heavy ransom for them.

All the members of the Zoophile Society are requested to attend at the National Theatre this afternoon. It promises to be most brilliant.

Some political unpleasantness in Salta, resulting in the usual bolting of a popular editor, was reported yesterday. There is nothing derogatory in an editor bolting to save his precious skin. Did not Boulanger bolt to Brussels last month?

What has become of the street-sweeping machines? Yesterday, from Flores to the Custom House, from Belgrano to Barracas, the city was in one frightful mess of soapy mud on which neither men nor beasts could keep their feet. The central streets were no exception. It seems hopeless to expect a reform. The fact is that the capital has grown so much and fast as to be unmanageable—like our currency, our trade, tramways, street traffic, railways, etc, etc, etc; and there is a general "going-to-the-D—l" tinge in the management of everything, due to the astounding progress of the country overpowering the efforts of all the powers that be. Only ten years ago the country was fast asleep. President Roca pulled off the clothes and kicked it out of bed; and the once omnipotent "Mañana" is now replaced by a mad desire to get, helter-skelter, as fast as lightning into the middle of next week. No wonder there is mud in the streets. Who cares for wading through mud toget at money? Mud, Money and Materialism,—the three great M's of the age. Viva!

On Wednesday evening, Mr. F. E. Williams was elected Vice President of the English Literary Society, the vacancy having occurred through the lamented death of the late Mr. F. E. Thicke. We congratulate Mr. Williams, who is a singularly able yet unassuming man, on his election.

"The following story about the unutterable Shah shows what an enlightened ruler Persia has: —"The Shah is in possession of a little casket of gold studded with emeralds which is said to have been blessed by Mahomet, and has the property of rendering the Royal wearer invisible as long as he remains celibate. A diamond set in a scimitar, and a dagger render him invincible. He has also a talismanic five-pointed star supposed to have been worn by Rustem, called "Merzoum," and believed to make conspirators instantly confess their crimes. To test its efficacy it was shown to the Shah's brother, who was accused of treason some time ago. He immediately confessed his fault, and implored pardon.

Talking of Shahs and superstition, we saw an instance of the latter yesterday from our sanctum window: A young English girl came out of a shop opposite and crossed the street. While doing so she suddenly stooped, picked up a very big and very dirty horse-shoe, and carefully stowed it away in her pocket. Two men on the side-walk were rude enough to roar laughing and make some pungent observations on the silly act; but she heeded them not; no doubt with what she calls her mind fastened on the lucky treasure in her pocket. The nineteenth century is now so near its grave that it will evidently have to leave to the twentieth the task of demolishing a good deal of human ignorance.

Mr. Ataliva Roca, the ex-President's brother is going to erect an hospital in Junin and present it to the town. More of this kind of genuine charity is very badly wanted amongst our wealthy classes, and Mr. Roca's example is a noble one.

Our indefatigable correspondent F. W. N. L. has sent us some more poetry; but we emphatically refuse to scan (in any sense) another single line of poetry till the gold premium comes down. With the poetry, however, we find the following cutting from an English paper, which may interest even those who demur to the spicy allusions to leather in the Letter of our London correspondent published yesterday:—"

"Lucia" was repeated on Wednesday last at the Politeama with the unapproachable Patti in the title role, than which there is no other in her extensive and varied repertoire that more clearly demonstrates the wonderful extent of her voice and the consummate method of which she is mistress. Her rendition of the "mad" scene was simply superb, and we are fain to believe that if she were to live till the age of the patriarchs, she would still remain the Queen of Song.

CON POBLACIONES.

Para todos los gustos y todas las fortunas.

¡Atencion!
EN LOS LIAS

30 de Mayo y 2 de Junio
A LAS 12 DEL DIA

Procederemos a vender en remate publico y en los mismos terrenos, el numero de solares, quintas, y chacras que se dejan expresadas, que constituyen el famoso campo que fue de doña Maria Faulkes, hoy del Consejo General de Educacion de la Provincia.—Por orden judicial dictada en el juicio sobre cesacion de condominio seguido por el Consejo General de Educacion de la Provincia.

Este campo que constituye ejido del pueblo de Brandzen, se reputa:—El mejor partido, el mejor del Sud, el mejor de la Provincia.

El que lo conoce, admitirá esto sin reserva; y el que no lo conozca, que se infórme y confirmará la aseveracion.

Se encuentra cortado por dos vias ferreas, la del Sud y la de La Plata, se halla trazada otra para el Nordeste; se proyecta un mercado de frutos, un tramway a Chascomus y se establecera alli la estacion principal de la empresa que ha presentado al superior Gobierno el proyecto de una red de ferro-carriles de la Provincia. Hecho esto Brandzen tendra como ningun partido, cuatro vias ferreas y un tramway. Fijarse: Cada comprador sera dueño de dar a su terreno el destino que desee, pues esta operacion no esta sometida a las condiciones con que el Gobierno vende los terrenos de ejido. Grandes ventajas—La venta se efectuara: una tercera parte al contado y las dos restantes a plazos de 3, 6, 9 y 12 meses con la garantia hipotecaria del mismo terreno y con el interes de seis por ciento anual; cuya hipoteca podra chancelarse antes de su vencimiento si los compradores lo prefieren, pudiendo sustituirse por otra de mas largos plazos en los Bancos Hipotecarios de la Provincia o la Nacion.

Observar—Que el pueblo de Brandzen segun el mapa del Estado Mayor del Ejercito Nacional se encuentra situado a doce leguas y fraccion de kilometros de la Capital federal, o sea una distancia igual que la ciudad de La Plata. Este campo esta soñado para la agricultura, tambos, pastoreo de invernada y establecimientos industriales. Por lo espuesto puede afirmarse que Brandzen es y sera una situacion industrial y comercialmente Estrategica. Esto es un hecho real y evidente que puede palpar todo el que entienda de negocios. Tasaciones babisimas. Los solares se encuentran tasados á cinco, nueve, quince, veinte y veinticinco centavos el metro cuadrado. Las quintas y medias chacras a 400 y 500 pesos m|n la hectarea. Las chacras a 200, 250, 350 y 400 la hectarea. Y la fraccion de Estancia con edificios a cuatrocientos pesos la hectarea. Las dimensiones de los solares, quintas y chacras constan de los planos que los interesados podran pedir en nuestra casa de remates y en los demas puntos que mas adelante indicaremos,

Para esta grandiosa venta: Tomaremos como base las dos terceras partes de las tasaciones respectivas de donde resulta que se vendera tirado y escepcionalmente barato, siendo la venta forzosa por tener que liquidarse el condominio.

Advertencias — Devidamente autorizados exijiremos al firmarse el boleto el diez por ciento en seña a todos los compradores admitiendo giros contra Bancos. No habra escepciones. Caso de lluvia se transferira el remate para el dia de fiesta siguiente.

MINISTERIO DEL INTERIOR

Habiendo dejado sin efecto la licitacion a que se llamo por aviso del 9 de Enero pasado para la terminacion de las obras del Riachuelo, por no haberse llenado los requisitos exigidos por la ley, llamase a nuevas propuestas por el termino de 30 dias para la terminacion de dichas obras con sujecion al proyecto definitivo de las mismas que podran consultar los interesados desde la fecha en el Departamento de Obras Publicas, y en la Secretaria de la Comisaria Administradora de dichas obras.

Las bases a que deben sujetarse los proponentes, ademas de las ya establecidas, son las siguientes:

1° En las propuestas debera fijarse un plazo aproximativo para la terminacion de las obras.

2° La expropiacion de los terrenos que fueren necesarios sera por cuenta de los proponentes.

3° Los precios de las obras seran unitarios—El pago se verificara en virtud de certificados mensuales que formulara el contratista de acuerdo con el inspector tecnico nacional de las obras que el gobierno nombre y que dependera del departamento de obras publicas.

4° Los proponentes se obligaran a refaccionar y reconstruir y reforzar los malecones existentes y en los puntos que se requiera mediante el previo convenio con el inspector.

5° El tren de dragado y demas utiles que se hallan a cargo de la comision administradora de las obras del Riachuelo, debera ser recibido por los contratistas y sera tenido en cuenta al formular los precios unitarios.

La entrega del tren del dragado como de cualquier otros utiles que los empresarios reciban, se hara bajo inventario, en el que se establecera el estado en que dichos utiles se encuentren a fin de que sean devueltos al gobierno a la terminacion de los trabajos sin mas deterio que el correspondiente al uso natural.

Las propuestas deberan presentarse en papel sellado de cinco pesos m|n. y acompañadas con un certificado de depósito en el Banco Nacional por importe del 1 o|o del valor de las obras y á la orden del Ministerio del Interior.

La apertura de las propuestas tendrá lugar en la secretaria del Ministerio del Interior, el dia 9 de Junio del corriente año, á las 3 p m., en presencia del escribano mayor de gobierno y de los interesados que quieran concurrir al acto.—Buenos Aires, Mayo 9 de 1889.— EL SUB SECRETARIO.

GRANDIOSO Y ESCEPCIONAL REMATE

Los terrenos mas pintorescos y de mayor porvenir que hay en los alrededores de Buenos Aires.

En el partido de Moron y sobre el precioso rio de Las Conchas, a 40 minutos de la Capital, por ferro-carril al Pacifico y una hora y diez minutos por tramway rural. La Estacion Hurlingham del primero queda à 3 cuadras y la de Pereyra del segundo à cinco de los terrenos. Contiguos a los del Club Hurlingham donde se esta construyendo circo para carreras y juegos atleticos, y lindando con los de la Compania Edificadora Hurlingham, en los que pronto empezaran a construirse un grandioso hotel y 150 chalets y destinados por consiguiente, a ser en breve tiempo el parage de modo, por las razones expuestas, la belleza de su topografia, y facilidades de comunicacion con la capital.

El Domingo, 2 de Junio

Sobre los mismos terrenos procederemos à la venta en remate, por cuenta de su propieiario de 61 manzanas de esplendida tierra, divididas en lotes de 256x200 varas, subdivididas en fracciones de 50x64 varas y en manzanas de 12,000 varas cuadradas, subdivididas en lotes de 20 por 50 varas. Sin base y por lo que den.

La concurrencia podra trasladarse a los terrenos por tren expreso que partira de la estacion Central a las 10½ a.m. y por los coches del tramway Rural que salen del Once de Setiembre a las 8.30, 9.20 y 10.30 a.m., para unos y otros se daran boletos gratis en nuestro escritorio à los que lo soliciten.

Antes de dar principio al remate, la concurrencia será obsequiada con un buen almuerzo campestre, en el que no faltará la codiciada carne con cuero.

Rogamos a los interesados visiten los terrenos antes del dia del remate para convencerse de que no hay exageracion en lo que decimos sobre ellos.

Los compradores, sin excepcion alguna, abonaran al firmar el boleto el 10 o|o sobre el importe de la venta. Condiciones de pago: al contado al firmar la escritura.

A project has been presented to enlarge the dimensions of the city of La Plata to an extent of 28,000 metres to the South-west, 18,000 metres to the South-east and 16,000 metres to the North-east, the expropriations to be effected by means of a new issue of 40,000,000 cedulas. The chacras and quintas will be sold by public auction unless the owner himself undertakes within a period of 6 months to have the land under cultivation, in which case expropriation will be dispensed with.

The Deputies passed a proposal exonerating from payment of Contribucion Directa all those who have planted olive-trees, the Executive being authorized to settle the exact basis of the law.

100 shares of the Muelles y Embarcadores de Rosario were sold yesterday in the Centro Comercial at 115 for the end of June.

Mr. Tudor, of the firm of Moore and Tudor, is about to pay a visit to Europe. During his absence Mr. James Begg will act as representative of the firm.

Messrs. Ballesteros, Zorraquin and Co. have presented a project to the Municipality of San Nicolas for the construction of a produce market and grain elevator, which will greatly facilitate the loading and unloading of all vessels in that port, at present so deficient in that respect. The concessionaires will also build capacious deposits for merchandise.

A model farm on a capital of 1,000,000 dollars is about to be started in the suburbs for the purpose of supplying fresh milk, butter, eggs, poultry, rabbits, pigs, etc., to the market here. There is no doubt that the business will give very handsome returns, as it has practically no competition to deal with. Two hundred milch cows will form the nucleus of the herd.

Mr. R. W. Lett, so favorably known in Rosario and this market, writes to say he has shipped a magnificent lot of thoroughbred horses to consignment of Messrs. Moore & Tudor, Rosario, as follows:—

Stallion, Roger the Monk, by Robert the Devil.

Dam, Lady Abbess, by Cathedral.

Thoroughbred stallion, the Assyrian, by Uncas.

Dam, Armistice, by Trumpeter.

Thoroughbred stallion, Blue Danube, by Albert Victor.

Dam, Wave, by Vertex.

Winner of the following races:—

Great Southdown Hunters Flat Race.

Sandown Hunters Flat Race.

Shrewsbury Hunters Flat Race.

Manchester Open Hunters Flat Race.

De Trafford Welter Cup Handicap.

Four Oaks Park Selling Hurdle Race.

Thoroughbred Cleveland stallion, Blafdon Squire, 1431, sire Lord of the Manor, 426.

Thoroughbred Cleveland colt, Otter Hunter-bay, sire Guintas, 1158, dam by Prince Frederick, 829.

Four pair of beautifully matched high-stepping carriage mares, coal-black and rich dark bays.

The above animals were shipped in Lamport and Holt s.s. Leny on 21st March, and Mr. Lett himself left Southampton on May 2nd for the Plate.

The exports from the United States to the River Plate ports during the month of March were as follows:

36,029,600 feet White pine, 14,679,000 do. spruce do., 49,281,000 do. pitch pine, 620,000 feet oak and ash, 3,174,000 feet other woods, 7,085 boxes chairs, 580 pks. duck, 12,000 boxes fire crackers, 234,666 cases kerosene, 1,010 cases lard, 231 reaping and moving machines, 6,821 cases ploughs, 5,290 barels rosen, 1,438 cases sewing machines, 3,505 boxes turpentine, 4,350 do. starch, 208 barrels sugar, 392,210 bales leaf tobacco, 23,501 do. manufactured do., 264 pks. wicking. The number of vessels loading or about ready to load is as follows:

At New York—10 with general cargoes, 2 with about 1,425,000 feet lumber.

At Yarmouth 1 vessel with 650,000 feet do.

At Bridgewater 2 vessels with 700,000 do.

At St. John 2 vessels with 900,000 do.

At Calais 3 vessels with 1,350,000 do.

At Portland 20 vessels with about 20,000,000 do.

At Boston 16 vessels with about 10,000,000 do.

At Philadelphia 1 vessel with 673 tons car material.

At Savannah 2 vessels with 750,000 feet lumber.

At Brunswick 7 vessels with about 2,300,000 do.

At Fernandina 3 vessels with 800,000 do.

At Apalachicola 1 vessel with 425,000 do.

At Pensacola 21 vessels with 12,000,000 do.

At Ship Island 3 vessels with 1,550,000 do.

At Puget Sound 2 vessels with 2,150,000 do.

The number of animals slaughtered up date in the "saladeros" of Montevideo is as follows:—

"The report of the Deutche Bank, Berlin, states that the year 1888 was a favourable one for German banking business. The following is the analysis presented at the nineteenth ordinary general meeting held in Berlin on the 15th ult. The net profits of the year 1888, amounting to marks 8,348,161.33, represents 13⅓ per cent. on the capital, and are to be appropriated as follows:—

	Marks
To dividend of 9 per cent to shareholders	5,400,000.00
To ordinary reserve	534,816.12
To directors and managers	1,073,778.86
To building reserve	400,500.00
To superannuation fund and gratuities to the staff	410,000.00
Carried forward to new account	529,566.44
	8,348,161.33

The increase of the bank's capital authorised by a general meeting of shareholders on 26th May, 1888, has been carried out in the course of the year 1888. The majority of shareholders have anticipated the calls, and on the 31st December, 1888, only 1,198,500 marks remained unpaid. The discount allowed on the calls has been charged to profit and loss account for 1888. The premium on the new shares, less expenses relating to their issue, has been placed, in conformity with the law, to the credit of the reserve fund B, raising it thus to 11,913,994 marks 05 pf.

The Deutsche Uerbersee Bank in Buenos Ayres has continued to work with good results; its paid-up capital of six millions of marks remains unaltered, and is quite sufficient for its requirements in view of the extension which has taken place in its deposits the business. As the general meeting of the shareholders of the Deutsche Uerbersee Bank has not yet been held, and, consequently, the accounts for the year 1888 have not yet been formally approved, the dividend on the shares held by the Deutsche Bank will be comprised in the profits of the latter for 1889.

Dr. J. Collis Browne's

CHLORODYNE.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE

Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by D. J. Collis Brown, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London!

Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan; but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are so sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative that have occurred under our personal observation during many years, in Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm Conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate Breach of Faith on the part of the Chemist to prescribe and Patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes and Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great, Britain. His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

Caution.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr J Collis Browne, was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodine; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1 1/2d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Caution.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.
